

SOCIETY

A WEDDING of surpassing beauty and exquisite taste united in marriage on Thursday night of this week two young Honolulu people of the widest acquaintance and popularity. Miss Rose Edith Herbert, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Herbert, and Mr. Marshall Brooke Henshaw.

As stately as a Greek goddess, fair and graceful, Miss Herbert stepped from the ranks of the maids into that of the matrons in a ceremony which was one of the most notable of many seasons. In rich robes of white satin, tulle and silver, she made a vivid picture of feminine loveliness, enhancing the environment of dignified beauty and ceremonial decoration.

St. Andrew's cathedral, scene of many weddings of note, was the setting for the nuptials.

The handsome church auditorium was filled with relatives and friends of the young people and their families. Miss Herbert's family, one of the best known and most distinguished in the islands, has wide connections of blood and friendship.

While the guests were assembling Mr. R. Bode rendered an appropriate musical program on the organ, whose grave notes softly floated over the silent attendants.

The chancel was banked with hundreds of pink gladioli and Easter lilies, intermingled with palms and ferns from the luxuriant Tenney fern and palm houses.

The altar held two seven-branched lighted candelabra and at either side were tall marble urns holding graceful stalks of pink gladioli and white lilies. The altar rail was a bank of lacy ferns with the lilies and gladioli in simple and artistic profusion. The church decorations were done by Mrs. Helen Noonan and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth.

The bridal procession entered the church promptly at half after eight to the strain of the Lohengrin wedding march. The procession was led by the ushers, including Mr. Charles Herbert, Mr. Cornell Franklin, Mr. Chauncey Cleveland and Mr. Douglas Damon, moving very slowly down the long central aisle.

Delicate shades of the rainbow in pastel pink, green, lavender and silver formed the color scheme for the attire of the feminine attendants at the wedding, one of the prettiest in the history of social Honolulu. Many were the comments that Miss Herbert made the prettiest bride that ever walked down the aisle at St. Andrew's.

After the ushers came the charming and daintily frocked attendants. Miss Ruth Anderson, a bridesmaid, was in a pale tinted lavender frock and silver lace, the foundation skirt in points with an overdress of silver lace and fluffy tulle. Long flowing angel sleeves had a silver band to hold the sleeve in place. The décolleté neck was finished with silver and tulle. The skirt was of the bouffant or shepherdess style. A pale lavender half veil of tulle was worn and a tall shepherd's crook was carried, showered in Cecil Bruner roses. Where the staff was held was a butterfly streamer bow of the color of the gown. Next followed Miss Aila Ward, another maid, in Nile green with the gown and finishing made in the same mode. She looked very sweet. All of the gowns were made exactly alike except as to coloring, creating a beautiful picture of girlish beauty.

Miss Dorothy Guild, bridesmaid, was in pink and made a very pleasing picture. Miss Pauline Schaefer, bridesmaid, in yellow, was most attractive and the maid of honor, Miss Vera Henshaw, a sister of the groom, was daintily dressed in her flesh tinted gown. The veil worn by the attendants were a pretty feature of a very lovely wedding.

Little Winifred Guild preceded the girlish bride, scattering rose petals in her path.

Following in the flower girl's footsteps entered the bride with her father, Dr. George Herbert, who gave her in marriage.

The bride was radiantly beautiful as she walked slowly down the aisle.

MRS. MARSHALL B. HENSHAW AND MISS AILA WARD, A BRIDAL ATTENDANT

Photo by KENNETH ALEXANDER

 Above—Mrs. Marshall B. Henshaw, whose marriage this week was one of the notable events of the season. Below—Miss Aila Ward, who came from San Francisco to be one of the bridal attendants for her friend. *****

In an exquisite simple gown of white satin with piqued points and an overdress of silver lace and tulle. A soft crush girde of ivory satin was worn at the waist, while a filmy cloud of illusion served as sleeves.

The bodice was of silver lace and illusion, cut square in the neck, and from her pretty shoulders hung a court train. Over this was the point lace veil worn very plainly and becomingly about the head and held in place by a small spray of orange blossom buds, her only ornament being a circle of diamonds and sapphires, a gift from the groom.

Her gown was one of the handsomest ever worn by a Honolulu bride. It was exquisite in its simplicity of design being fashioned in accordance with the personality of the bride. The veil of the gown reached to the end of the court train.

The bride carried a shower bouquet of white orchids and colored pansies with long flowing streamers of tulle. Later when Mrs. Henshaw assembled her bridal attendants and tossed her bouquet for the capture, it fell into the arms of Miss Ruth Anderson, and now she must live up to tradition. At the altar the bridal party was met by the groom, and Mr. Merwin Carson, who supported him as best man.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Canon William Ault in his usual impressive manner. Then the young people came back down the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's march, greeting on all sides the admiring friends assembled.

A reception was then held at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. George Herbert, on Keeaunoku street. At the reception no one was in attendance except the relatives and the bridal party, numbering about fifty.

The home was exquisitely decorated with pink gladioli and white lilies, pink and cream colored roses with great baskets of feathery asparagus vine and baskets of lacy fern. The music room, where the gifts were displayed, was decorated entirely in lavender, pink and cream colored orchids from the E. D. Tenney orchid houses, and here was indeed shown a wealth of affection and love, for the gifts were many and varied. A full chest of flatware, crystal, china brass, Canton pottery, furniture, pictures, rugs and checks—one for a thousand dollars from the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney. The bride's table was ornamented with her wedding cake, a "two-story" affair. The top was removed and put in a hermetically sealed tin to be opened twenty-five years hence. Music by a glee club made the evening hours fly, and later the bride changed from her wedding gown into her going-away frock of cream colored silk Irish poplin with splashes of mustard yellow with a smart hat to match.

At the wedding, Mrs. Herbert, her mother, was frocked in a beautiful orchid lavender satin with opalescent bands as trimming and looked very stunning.

The bride was born at Ulupalakua, Maui, where the couple have gone to spend their honeymoon at the Makee homestead, the home of her grand

COL. AND MRS. JAMES B. HOUSTON'S DINNER

This evening Col. and Mrs. James B. Houston are entertaining at a beautifully appointed dinner, honoring General and Mrs. Charles G. Treat of Schofield Barracks. A silver basket will hold long stemmed pink roses and the table will be artistically arranged with clusters of pink sweet peas and ferns.

Col. and Mrs. Houston's guests will be General and Mrs. Charles G. Treat, General and Mrs. Frederick S. Stronz, Col. and Mrs. Andrew Hero, Col. and Mrs. R. McA. Schofield, and Col. and Mrs. William B. Banister.

MR. AND MRS. W. CASE DEERING'S DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin of Maui were the guests of honor at a dinner given on Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. Case Deering at their handsome Waikiki home.

The table was ablaze with pink roses and pink gladioli and maiden-hair fern. Bridge was the diversion after dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Deering's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin, the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Collins, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Weller, Mr. Augere, and Mr. Marsh.

MR. AND MRS. REYNOLD B. MCGREW HONOR MRS. GUSTAV SCHAEFER

Mr. and Mrs. Reynold B. McGrew entertained on Monday evening after the races with a chowder supper at Kahala, honoring Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, who left for the mainland last Wednesday. It was a very informal gathering. A swim was enjoyed before supper, after which a delicious chowder was served.

Those enjoying Mr. and Mrs. McGrew's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. William Williamson, Miss Ayers, Miss Margaret Ayers, Mr. Harold Giffard, Mr. Chauncey Cleveland, and Mr. Cornell Franklin.

MRS. T. EDGAR ROBINSON A BRIDGE LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Mrs. T. Edgar Robinson was a bridge-luncheon hostess on Thursday, entertaining at the Country Club. The table was dainty with masses of graceful pink begonias prettily arranged in a brown Japanese basket. Bridge was the diversion for the afternoon. For high scoring, Mrs. W. L. Stanley, Mrs. Matthew W. Graham and Miss Blanche Soper were awarded dainty guest towels.

Mrs. Robinson's guests were Mrs. A. W. T. Bottomley, Mrs. W. L. Stanley, Mrs. Robert Lange, Miss Danford, Mrs. Edward Dekum, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. Matthew M. Graham, Mrs. Antonio Perry, Miss Josephine Soper, Miss Blanche Soper, and Mrs. Claude Watson.

POST NUPITAL TEA

Mrs. John Trenholm Warren is giving a bridal tea Thursday afternoon, June 21, from four till six to meet Mrs. Walter Duisenberg, formerly Miss Breta Bills of Lincoln, Nebraska, who has come to Honolulu to make her home. Receiving with the hostess and her guest of compliment will be two other recent brides, Mrs. Shirley Bush, nee Hawk, whose marriage took place last week, and Mrs. Archie Guld, nee Wilson of Portland, Oregon, whose marriage took place a few months ago. The three brides will wear their wedding gowns. Also receiving with them will be Miss Ruth Richards, a prospective bride, whose marriage to Mr. Frank Midkiff will take place on June 29.

One hundred and fifty cards have been issued for the affair, the guest list, with the exception of the women who will assist about the rooms, including only those who have not been entertained by Mrs. Warren at one of the three earlier affairs of the series of which this is the last.

VISITOR FROM NEW MEXICO ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Jack Milton entertained at luncheon on Thursday at her Waikiki home for Mrs. Royal D. Trent of New Mexico, who is visiting her brother, Richard H. Trent and family.

Those present were Mrs. Royal D. Trent, Mrs. Fred E. Hailey, Mrs. Ralph E. Quarles, Mrs. Lucy Shelton, Mrs. Ollie H. Walker, Mrs. Leon L. Looft, Mrs. J. Alexander Lyle, Mrs. John Taylor Gray, Mrs. M. P. Ireland, and the hostess, Mrs. Jack Milton.

MISS RUTH ANDERSON HONORS MISS RUTH RICHARDS

Miss Ruth Richards, a coming bride, was the guest of honor at a kitchen shower given by Miss Ruth Anderson Tuesday afternoon at her Keeaunoku street home. After the guests were assembled a large laundry basket was carried in, it being decorated with a kiewie bride and a great butterfly bow of illusion, and presented to the bride-elect amid much laughter and gaiety. The many kitchen articles were accepted with thanks. About 24 guests enjoyed the pleasant afternoon.

WAR RELIEF BENEFIT

Great interest is being taken in the forthcoming society event for the Hawaiian Allied War Relief Fund under the direction of Madam Lester in the Bijou theater, June 22, and a matinee for children, Saturday, June 23. For the latter many of the younger set are forming box parties. For Friday evening's performance boxes have already been taken by Miss Beatrice Castle, Mrs. C. W. Case Deering, Mrs. F. M. Swazy and Mrs. Isenberg. Miss Helen Center will dance the beautiful Golden Butterfly Dance with a whistling accompaniment by Mrs. Geo. Bustard, who is making her first appearance before a Honolulu audience. Miss Pattie Fenton, the Australian child wonder, will also delight and surprise the public.

Everybody on the committee is enthusiastically working and a splendid

Little Miss Hyberta Humes, talented juvenile dancer who will appear at the entertainment for the benefit of the Hawaiian Allied War Relief fund, on June 22.

MRS. A. GARTENBERG A LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Mrs. A. Gartenberg was a luncheon hostess on Thursday of this week. Covers were laid for twelve guests. Bridge was the diversion after luncheon.

MRS. EDWIN A. BENNER HONORS MRS. C. PERCY MORSE

Mrs. C. Percy Morse was the complimented guest this week at a bridge party over which Mrs. Edwin A. Benner and Mrs. Barnum presided as hostesses. Seven tables of bridge were playing and a half dozen guests came in for tea, enjoying the social hour together. The rooms were gay and pretty with quantities of cosmos and lacy ferns. Mrs. J. L. Young scored highest and was rewarded with a dainty prize while Mrs. St. C. Sayres cut the consolation gift. Mrs. Moore was given as a guest of honor gift a dainty silver vase filled with flowers. Mrs. Benner's and Mrs. Barnum's guests were Mrs. C. Percy Morse, the honor guest; Mrs. Charles Bon, Mrs. John T. Warren, Mrs. E. M. Barnum, Mrs. A. L. Andrews, Mrs. R. G. Moore, Mrs. F. A. Potter, Miss Charles Lewis, Mrs. George Curry, Mrs. Charles H. Atherton, Mrs. Marcia P. Ireland, Mrs. Fred C. Lyser, Mrs. De Wolf, Miss Walthal, Mrs. F. J. Lindeman, Mrs. St. C. Sayres, Mrs. Charles R. Frazier, Mrs. Phillip Frear, Mrs. E. Wynant, Miss Violet Atherton, Mrs. Marston Campbell, Mrs. Edward B. Loomis, Mrs. A. H. Tarleton, Mrs. T. L. Young, Mrs. Charles Drew, Mrs. Tom Church, Mrs. F. DeFreest, and

ABOUT MRS. BALDWIN WOOD

Mrs. Baldwin Wood, spoken of in the following article, is a daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Hyde-Smith and Mrs. Harold Dillingham. "Mrs. Baldwin Wood and Mrs. George Howard, Jr., are contemplating the beginning of a course in wireless telegraphy, and if they carry out their present plans they will motor to the city every day from their home in San Mateo for their work.—San Francisco Examiner, June 3.

LITTLE JANE LEIGH BEALL ENTERTAINS

This afternoon little Jane Leigh Beall, daughter of Mrs. Mahan Beall and granddaughter of Commodore and Mrs. Dennis Mahan, is celebrating her birthday by having a half dozen little friends in to enjoy the day with her. The little folk at the party are Timisan Agee, Gwendlin Waterhouse, Dorothy Erdman, Betty Seall, Donald Cockburn, and Lowell Dillingham. Games and the usual pleasures of childhood were indulged to the full.

White Goods Week

SPECIAL DISPLAYS OF WHITE SUMMER DRESS MATERIALS, WEEK OF JUNE 18.

During this week we will give special attention to the display of an exceptionally complete and varied line of summery dress materials, including the newest and most momentous ideas in silk and cotton dress goods, ribbons, trimmings, laces, and embroidery.

DO NOT MISS THIS SPECIAL EXHIBIT.

B. F. EHLERS & CO.

New Blouses

Priced Most Attractively

Exceptionally excellent values in blouses of the smartest types, in the most fashionable materials.

Georgette Crepe models, filet lace trimmed in flesh and white.

Military models with high collars in assorted combinations.

Russian Sport Blouses

Crepe de Chine coat effect with contrasting collars and cuffs.

LINGERIE BLOUSES

Voiles in plain and novelty effects, batiste and organdie in the most attractive new models.

SACHS'
Hotel Street, near Fort

